Additional notes on our combined translation ability

We are a married couple, and each of use speaks the partner's native language fluently (Italian or Japanese, respectively). For particularly difficult translation jobs we work as a team, which allows us to guarantee a perfect understanding of the source language (Italian, Japanese or English) as well as a faithful translation into the target language (Italian or Japanese). For additional information on our translation experience please see https://www.aliseo.com/en/translation/japanese-italian-translation.php.
